Mother Nature gave the Hamptons another gorgeous weekend full of events celebrating the East End's arts and culture and benefitting local charities.

It was the perfect weather for the 67th annual Artists & Writers Softball Game, which was a hit for the four local charities, The Eleanor Whitmore Early Childhood Center in East Hampton, Phoenix House Academy in Wainscott, The Retreat and East End Hospice, it benefited. Christina Aguilera, Jamie Foxx and Smokey Robinson were among those to take the stage at Ron Perelman's East Hampton estate Saturday night for Apollo in the Hamptons. Jack Nicholson, Jimmy Fallon, Mary-Kate Olsen and Chris Christie watched as the 34-year-old diva belted out hits Lady Marmalade and Ain't No Other Man before dedicating At Last to fiancé Matthew Rutler. It was a special weekend for Aguilera and Rutler, who got engaged Valentine's Day 2014, as they celebrated daughter Summer Rain's birthday Sunday. Foxx pulled Jimmy Fallon onstage during his performance, and Jon Bon Jovi joined Robinson for a duet.
