Though it's nice to treat yourself to a nice restaurant - been there done that. Why not have a classy night in your chez-toi instead? Annie Falk, author and philanthropist, is here to inspire us with her recently published second book Hamptons Entertaining. You name it, Annie Falk has it covered. From beautifully photographed tablescapes, to thoughtfully planned out menus for any and every seasonal soiree, she has more than 80 recipes to choose from! Transitioning recipes from summer to fall never seemed so easy.

Now that you've figured hosting a party seems fun and unique, feeling a bit overwhelmed? Breathe girl, breathe! Not to worry. Follow these steps, gather some friends, and you'll be the talk of the night. Everyone will be leaving wanting to design their own dinner party, but hey, you started it first!
